[illegible] BEEF [illegible].

Highest Medals. Indorsed and Prescribed by Medical Men of all Schools.
Professor Duncan Campbell, M.D., LL.D., President Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, etc., etc., says: "It has more than realized my expectations."
Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."
Professor H. Goullon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony; Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."
Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."
Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumb ague; low fever; marasmus; paralysis; spinal and nervous affections; female weakness; bilious and liver affections; weak throats; palpitation and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the voice of actors, singers, public speakers and clergymen; colic; flatulency; seasickness; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is gratefully refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental and physical strain. It is pleasant and agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McBean (British Medical Journal) found it of great service in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that they live to a great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

TUBERCULAR DISEASE OF LUNGS AND BRONCHITIS.
Tubercular consumption of the lungs is that form of the disease most common, most fatal, and until recently considered incurable. Tubercle, from which the name is derived, is a morbid product, deposited from diseased blood in various parts of the body; and in proportion as that fluid is impure, and length of time it remains so, will tubercular diathesis continue.
FALL RIVER, MASS., March 20th, 1879.
JAMES I. FELLOWS, Esq.
Dear Sir: About three years ago I was attacked with bronchitis and tubercular disease of the left lung, and suffered for two years so severely that I was unable to attend to business. About a year ago I was advised to try Fellow's Syrup of Hypophosphites, and before I had finished one bottle my appetite and strength were greatly improved; my cough became less troublesome, my sleep was sound and refreshing, which had not been the case for over a year. I had suffered from nervousness and difficult breathing all the time I was sick; but your syrup has cured it all. I advise all persons afflicted as I was, to use Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites.
(Signed) JAMES H. STEWART.
An endless chain of good effects is formed by FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES, and we are safe in saying, from a long experience in medicine, its virtues are not possessed by any other combination.

Dr. C. W. BENSON,

Inventor and Proprietor of the
These Pills have met with the most Remarkable Success as is attested by the Immense Sales they have Attained.
Parsons, Bangs & Co., have had Eighteen Hundred Dozens the Past Year.
Hundreds have testified to the Benefit they have derived from their use in the cure of Sick, Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Paralysis, Sleeplessness and Indigestion.
It is a Fully Established Fact, Based on Actual Experience, and There is No Kind of Doubt but They Will Cure These Diseases.
DR. C. W. BENSON'S CELERY AND CHAMOMILE PILLS are prepared expressly to cure Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Paralysis, Sleeplessness and Indigestion or Dyspepsia, and will cure any case, no matter how obstinate, if properly used. They are not a cure-all, but only for these special diseases. They contain no opium, morphine or quinine, and are not a purgative, but regulate the bowels and cures constipation by curing or removing the causes of it. They have a charming effect upon the skin, and a lovely, quieting effect upon the nervous system, simply by feeding its ten thousand hungry, yes, in some cases starving absorbants. They make or create nerve matter and give power, force and buoyancy to the nerves, and in that way increase mental force, endurance and brilliancy of mind. Nobody that has a nervous system should neglect to take them two or three months in each year, simply as a nerve food, if for no other purpose. Price 50 cts. a box, or six boxes for $2.00, sent postage free. Sold by all druggists, and by

Mr. Joseph Beach.
Stone in the Kidney expelled after using Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" about two weeks.
One of the most remarkable cases that has ever been brought to the notice of the public, is that of Mr. J. S. Beach, of Stone Ridge, Ulster Co., N. Y. Mr. Beach had suffered, since October 18th, 1874, from the presence of Calculus or Stone in the right Kidney. No less than seven physicians were employed at different times, to whom Mr. Beach paid hundreds of dollars for medical treatment, with only temporary relief from his agony.
By the urgent solicitations of his friends he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy"—experienced a marked improvement from the first day he began to use the medicine; on the 15th of September he voided a stone as large as could be passed through the natural channel.
Mr. Beach concludes a long letter to Dr. Kennedy by saying: "It will always afford me pleasure to recommend the "Favorite Remedy" to those who may be suffering from difficulties of the Kidneys and Bladder, or any disorders arising from an impure state of the blood. The "Favorite Remedy" sold by all druggists. The Doctor's only address, is Rondout, New York.

Five Famous Operas
MIGNON. ($1.) Opera by AMBROISE THOMAS. This very successful opera first became known in Paris, where it slowly worked its way to permanent distinction, and has become one of the standards. It is very full, occupies 405 pages, and furnishes to the purchaser quite a library of music of a high order.
AIDA. ($2.) Grand Opera by VERDI. Composed in the first instance for the ruler of Egypt, and first given in that ancient kingdom, where also the scene of the story is laid. The strange life of old forgotten ages comes before us, and is made vivid by the thrilling music of one of the most brilliant of composers.
CARMEN. ($2) By GEORGES BIZET. A Spanish Opera, introducing Spanish Gypsies, Soldiers, Spanish Dons, a Torreador, and Spanish Contraband Traders. We are in contact with the bizarre ways and incidents of the Spanish peninsula, and the music is quite in consonance with the prevailing brightness.
MEFISTOFELE. ($2.) By A. BOITO. Mefistofele is the true fiend according to Goethe, whose poem is closely followed throughout. A daring composition, romantic and weird, and now widely given, and pronounced a success.
FATINITZA. ($2.) By F. VON SUPPE, whose music is most taking, and who introduces us, in a free and easy and humorous way, to Russians and Turks during the war. Very Popular.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The river gained three inches over the day previous, Thursday. The Lewiston mills are running full hours, after a six-weeks run on short time.

Some of the Lewiston grain dealers got to running each other, and corn has been sold as low as 65 cents per bushel, and meal at 60 cents, within the last two days. 62½ cents for meal and 67½ cents for corn is the market price.

Mousey Hayes, a well-known Lewiston man, and professional pugilist, is in Augusta jail for 90 days; he is accompanied by Etta Barre, a notorious Lewiston woman, whom he represented to be his wife.

Despatches from J. T. Small, dated at Malvern, Arkansas, Wednesday, state the Lewiston party would arrive at Texarkana, Ark., Thursday morning. The party had not heard from home, and a news despatch was sent them Thursday morning.

A few month ago the Journal gave an account of an amusing wedding ceremony in Clerk of Courts Laughton's office, the contracting parties being an old gentleman of 70 with a rosebud in his buttonhole, and a red cheeked girl in her teens. The couple have separated and hostilities grew so demonstrative that the police were called in, Thursday.

A serious accident happened at Androscoggin Mills, at quarter before twelve o'clock, Thursday noon. A piece broke out of a large pulley in the No. 2 mill, which drives Nos. 2 and 3. At the same moment, the belt broke, the shaft broke and one of the hangers came down. The pieces flew around recklessly and dodged uncomfortable corners around the heads of the operatives. One piece struck a spinning frame and broke it. Both the No. 2 and No. 3 mills are shut down until repairs can be made. They are bag mills.

Aroostook.

Many families in Houlton, are obliged to haul water from the mill-stream, or melt snow for what they require for culinary or domestic use.

In Hodgdon, last Monday afternoon, while Earnest Victory was at work chopping trees in the woods, a large limb of a tree fell, striking him on the head and rendering him insensible. He was taken home, a doctor sent for, and hopes are now entertained for his recovery.

Sherman, a boy about 10 years of age, son of Isaac Corneilson, was run over by a runaway horse, in Houlton, last week. He was seriously injured, and taken up insensible, and is was some time before consciousness was restored. The mark of the horse's shoe was plainly visible on his left side. He is now getting better.

A small house, owned by Willard Putnam and occupied by one Spencer and family, on the French Flat, Houlton, was destroyed by fire last Monday night about midnight. The family had not gone to bed when the fire was discovered, and it is supposed to have been set by an incendiary. The family are in very destitute circumstances.

Cumberland.

The Rev. H. A. Philbrook, of Biddeford, a well known and highly respected Universalist clergyman, has just accepted the office of financial agent of Westbrook Seminary and female college, to which he was elected last December. The Universalist church has already invested $100,000 there, and an effort is to be made to well endow the school. Mr. Philbrook will have an able committee of the trustees of seminary to aid and advise in this work, viz: The Hon. Sydney Perham, the Hon. Israel Washburn, the Rev. Dr. J. P. Weston, N. K. Sawyer, and Charles S. Forbes, Esq. Mr. Philbrook is well qualified for the new position and its responsible work, and the trustees feel gratified at having secured him for it.

Kennebec.

The Gardiner Journal says: Some of our wealthy citizens have been moving in the matter of building a cotton factory in this city. It is designed to make the capital stock $300,000, and build a mill of 20,000 spindles. It is thought there will be no trouble in securing the necessary amount of capital, if they can agree with the trustees of Gardiner estate on the price of the land and dam. They want the Chateaugay dam (No. 3) and the land known as "Bone Island," and if the parties can agree upon the price of it we doubtless shall have the mill before long. Such an undertaking would give a boom to business and estate in Gardiner that everybody would be benefited more or less, and we hope it will be a success.

Messrs. Jos. Perry & Co., at the Gardiner Machine Works, have just completed one of S. L. Gould's patent pulp screens for Richard & Co.'s paper mill. In the old screen, the shaking apparatus was on one side of the screen, while in Mr. Gould's it is in the centre, and imparts the motion to the whole screen evenly. This is the first one that has been built.

They are making quite extensive repairs on the Gardiner and Pittston bridge. The two middle spans are to be raised and straightened, and the foundation for the arches strengthened. The spans are raised by screws placed upon piles resting on the bottom of the river. The bridge is closed to teams while the repairs are in progress.

The hull of the steamer Clarion, which has been laying on the flats at the ship yard in Farmingdale, for two or three years, is being fixed up for a scow.

Mr. Geo. A. Oliver, engineer at Richards & Co.'s mill, is building a steam launch to run on the Cobbossee the coming summer. It will be 27 feet long and 5½ feet wide, with a screw wheel. Mr. Oliver has built the engine himself, and is now at work on the boiler, and Geo. Williams is building the hull. Mr. Oliver expects to be able to run eight or ten miles an hour with it, and to be able to go to the Oxbow.

Lincoln.

Some thief entered the house of John Storer, North Waldoboro, a few days ago, while he was absent from home, and stole $3.50, belonging to Alden Storer, a steady, hard working boy, who has been in his employ for the past two years.

Piscataquis.

Mr. W. L. Sampson, the Marble Worker, of Dover, is doing a good business. During the present season he has turned out over $500 worth of work. He has now in process of construction and nearly completed, a handsome monument for parties in the town of Lee. It will cost when completed, $150.

Elmer Blethen, of Foxcroft, is now at a Boston hospital, where he is receiving treatment for a lingering disease of the bowels.

Washington.

James McFarland, of Calais, who was so seriously injured on the St. Croix and Penobscot R. R., last week, is steadily improving, and strong hopes are entertained of his final recovery.

Mr. W. B. King, has purchased of the Calais Savings Bank, the fine dwelling-house on Main street, recently owned by Mr. A. L. Clapp, for $1,800. It could not be built for twice the money to-day. The Bank was offered $2,000 for it last summer.

The entire property known as the Pool Block, in Calais, has been taken possession of by the Government to meet a claim of ten thousand dollars, which has been standing some ten years. It takes from Mr. Pool his most valuable possessions, and his loss must be keenly felt. At the time when Mr. Pool became involved in difficulty with the Government, he could have settled the matter by paying five hundred dollars, but he chose to fight, and the result is a great loss to himself.

The Red Beach Plaster Co. never did a larger and more profitable business than at present. Their orders are already two months ahead of their work, and though the insufficiency of water somewhat interferes with operations, they are still enabled to keep their mills running at a lively rate. A sudden rise of water would be decidedly acceptable to them just now.

York.

The lumber business is good at Lyman. W. Warren is stripping a lot which contains about 500,000 feet of pine.

The cotton mills at Salmon Falls are compelled to run on short time on account of the scarcity of water.

Mr. L. S. Weymouth, of Hollis Centre, has put a turbine water wheel into his mill and is making other improvements. He has put up a two story building; the lower floor to be used for a blacksmith's shop, and the upper floor for a joiner's shop.

Hon. Z. A. Gilbert, member of the Board of Agriculture, at a Farmers' Institute held at Augusta, recently, gave the following, concerning Silos and Ensilage:

Silos and ensilage is a method of preserving green fodder in pits. The pit is termed silo, and the fodder ensilage. It is a French discovery, and had previously been tried in this country. To Dr. J. M. Bailey, of Massachusetts, are we indebted for calling attention to this method of preserving fodder. He first put down 125 tons of corn fodder, in two silos. The stock fed upon this had been examined by the speaker, as well as the method of preserving the fodder. The fodder must be cut very fine, about one-half inch in length, and it is necessary to keep the air from the fodder when packed. The cut corn fodder is covered with straw and weighed down with weights of stones. The air remaining in the interstices escapes, or is forced out through the covering by the weights, and the mass becomes almost a complete solid. If the work be properly done only slight fermentation will take place. Imperfectly constructed silos give imperfectly preserved fodder. Dr. Bailey's two silos cost $500, or about $1.25 per ton capacity. The cost thus becomes less for first cost than the present method for dry fodder.

The advantages claimed, if seconded by facts, would place this subject beyond question. The interest has become a regular ensilage boom, yet not nearly as much interest has been awakened in this State as in other States. The extravagant claims made upon the importance of this kind of fodder, are not warranted by facts.

Green fodder of all kinds can be preserved in silos in excellent condition for stock food. It is no longer an experiment, but has become an established fact. With small strawed plants which can easily be preserved by drying, the cost will not be lessened by the ensilage process. But with corn fodder, it is different, for this contains so much water that it can with difficulty be preserved by drying. Fresh grass is made up of from 75 to 80 per cent. of water. Young clover has much more. In feeding grass in a green state, it is found that this amount of water is more than the animal requires. Hence the practice of partially drying it before feeding. The silos of green grass are more digestible than dry hay. Grass dried, made into hay returns to the producers just as good results as if fed in its green state, hence no advantage will come from preserving in silos. Further experiments may develop new facts. The strong points which the advocates make is for the preservation of fodder corn. Heretofore it has been difficult to preserve this in a good state, but with a silo it can be done, and Dr. Bailey claims that a hundred cows may be kept a year upon the product of an acre of land. Fodder corn has been grown heretofore as a supplement to the other kinds of fodder, and many have claimed that no benefit can be obtained from its use, and when examined by the chemist the same conclusion is reached as by the common farmer.

A FITTING END TO A FRAUDULENT REFORM.

[From the New York Herald.]

Mr. George William Curtis, in the current number of Harper's Weekly, gives the finishing blow to fraudulent civil service reform, and now that this pretentious and hypocritical movement has been slain in the House and by the hands of one of its chief promoters, the Herald hastens to give notice to the friends of real and honest reform in the civil service that they have room to go to work. The field is clear for them.

Mr. Curtis justifies the recent course of Mr. Hayes in relation to certain New York appointments on the simple ground that General Grant did the same things in 1877. "President Hayes," writes Mr. Curtis, "has done precisely what President Grant in the case of those whose terms had expired did—he has nominated other persons known as supporters of the administration to succeed them. We do not see by what right those who justified the changes of four years ago protest against those which are now proposed. If it was proper that Marshal Fiske should be turned out—for his term had not expired—to make room for Mr. Payn, it is evidently not improper that Marshal Payn should give place to Mr. Jacobus. Those who believe in this kind of politics cannot complain. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

Nor is this all. In regard to the case of the District Attorney of the Southern District Mr. Curtis writes: "We shall not be understood as pointing any insinuations at General Woodford. We have never heard nor supposed that he had misused in any way any power that he possessed, and we share the general respect for him as a citizen and a gentleman. But we do not think that upon any sound principle whatever was the President under obligation to renominate him. The nomination of Mr. Forster, should it be confirmed, will secure to the public service not less integrity, ability and courage than it loses by the retirement of General Woodford."

Mr. Forster, whose appointment Mr. Curtis approves, happens to be a part of the Curtis machine in this State. Mr. Woodford, who has not, according to Mr. Curtis, "misused in any way the power he possessed," and for whom he expresses entire "respect as a citizen and as a gentleman," belongs to the Conkling machine. Hence Mr. Curtis approves the attempt to appoint Mr. Forster in Mr. Woodford's place. That is all. What has been so pretentiously cried up as civil service reform turns out, on the confession of its chief, to be a mere struggle of the outs to get the places of the ins, and this boasted "reform" is successful, it seems, when an officer who has never "misused in any way the power he possessed," and who is regarded even by the pretended reformers as entitled to "respect as a citizen and a gentleman," is dismissed and a favorite of the reformers is put in his place.

It has often been said by the friends of a genuine and honest reform in the civil service that nobody has done so much to bring this cause into disrepute and even ridicule as Mr. Hayes; but it must be admitted that Mr. Curtis has been his able helper. After this last exposition of his we may surely hope to hear no more of Mr. Curtis as a civil service reformer. Let us have a real, a sincere and honest reform of the civil service by all means, but no more such shams as these.

A CASE FOR A STEAM LEG AND CAST-IRON BOOT.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

The "enterprise of the Press" is just now finding comical illustration in the person of an "interviewing fiend," who has domiciled himself in a farm house near that of General Garfield, at Mentor, and from that point of vantage and inquiry writes to nineteen different newspapers with commendable industry but doubtful taste. He watches the depot at Mentor and the house of the President-elect with equal vigilance and ardor, and alternately bores the distinguished arrivals at the one and torments the visitors and servants at the other. Neither sex is sacred to him; and his inquiries are indifferently upon public or private affairs. The menu of the day's dinner at the President's home takes equal prominence in his inquisitive eyes with the latest imagined selection for the Cabinet. He is said to have imposed his acquaintance upon every visitor, neighbor, friend, servant; in fact, everything at Mentor, except the toe of the General's boot; and it might be well if, before putting on the new dignities of the Presidency, the farmer-statesman should insist on his making that casual acquaintance at least once. It may interest those who have so gravely and persistently commented upon "treaties at Mentor," Cabinet selections, interferences in Senatorial contests and Mr. Hayes's later nominations, to know that this enterprising hanger-on at Mentor is the authority for most of the absurd rumors put afloat that the White House has inspiration from Mentor. It is entirely within bounds to say that General Garfield has taken little interest and no part in any of the recent changes at Washington outside the military promotions and retirements.

THE NEMESIS OF RACE INTOLERANCE.

In the Whittaker investigation on Wednesday, one of the white Cadets, named Ostheim, testified as to the systematic ostracism of Whittaker at the Academy and said he had shunned him on account of his race. By a peculiar turn of the questions it was elicited that the witness himself belonged to a race that has suffered enough from unjust prejudice to make its people tolerant. The examination was as follows:

Colonel Morrow—What was Cadet Whittaker's social standing at West Point?

"The cadets had nothing to do with him socially."

"Can you explain the reason of this?"

"I speak only for myself—there was no united action in the matter. Each cadet claimed the right to associate with whom he pleased."

"Did Mr. Whittaker participate in the amusements of the Academy?"

"No, I do not think he did."

"To what do you attribute this complete ostracism of Whittaker?"

"I cannot explain it, unless because he was of African race."

"Now, Mr. Ostheim, had you gone into the room of a white cadet and found him tied to his bedstead, his pillow smeared with blood, a club smeared with blood beside him, with all the marks of violence upon him, would you not have released him?"

Major Gardner objected to the question, and the Court overruled the objection.

The witness—I do not think I should have acted toward a white cadet in any other way than as I did toward Mr. Whittaker.

"If you had heard Cadet Whittaker call for help, would you have gone to his assistance?"

"Yes, sir, I should."

Professor Greener—Was it on account of his race that you avoided Mr. Whittaker?

"I do not think I had occasion to avoid him."

"Should you have avoided him if you had had occasion?"

"Yes, sir, I think I should."

"Would this have been on account of his color?"

"I suppose it would have been partly for that reason."

"Why did you affirm instead of taking the oath?"

"I consider an affirmation and an oath of equal force."

"Have you any religious scruples against taking an oath?"

"No, not as it is administered here."

"Why, then, did you not take the oath?"

"My people prefer not to swear."

"Who are your people?"

"I am a Jew."

"Do you not know that the same prejudice exists against the Jews as against the negroes?"

"I am aware that that is so."

"Ought you not to soften your aversion to the colored race?"

"I do not wish the question of my race, which cannot in any way bear upon the evidence, to be brought up in this place."

WASHINGTON SOCIETY.

EXTRACTS FROM THE DIARY OF AN AMERICAN BELLE.

[From Harper's Magazine.]

"January 13.—Since the New Year receptions I've been to a dozen dinners and dances, two or three receptions every day, and made about fifty calls, to say nothing of those which Aunt G—— and I have received. My head's in a whirl, and I'm dreadfully happy."

"February 1.—My dress at Mrs. Admiral ——'s party, night before last, has been described in the papers. Who could have done it? I'm sure I didn't, even if some people do. Now that I know how much there is here besides dressing, and how well people stand who dress very plainly, it seems very foolish this being paraded just for one's costume. Washington, after all, is the most democratic and sensible of cities."

"February 6.—I'm getting awfully tired; but no one can stop after the round has once been begun. We keep it up every day from noon to midnight, meeting the same people at a great many of the places, till it's like one big family."

"February 19.—A funny reception given to some Chippewa and Apache Indians last night at Senator Savage's. The Indians squatted on the floor in their skins (I don't mean their own, but artificial ones), and in beads and feathers, with a smell of camp-fire smoke and earth and horses about them that wasn't pleasant; and we all shook hands with them, and stared. One of them took hold of the lace on my sleeve, and smiled at it with childish delight. Then they sang, beating their tomahawks on the floor to keep time, a strange chant like the wind in a canyon, ending with a sharp, fierce barking like dogs. We made a show of them, and they made one of us. Which were the most civilized?"

"February 21.—Going up to a night session at the House, the stalks of gas jets in the tholus on top of the dome and the electric light at the dome's base made a wonderful effect. All the middle of the Capitol was in a blue, weird mist of brilliance. While I was there they sent the sergeant-at-arms to bring in absent members, who came in evening dress from the dinners and parties where they were found, and had to make excuses. One of them looked half tipsy; another, a new member, was dreadfully disturbed because the House, by way of a joke, pretended at first that it wouldn't accept his excuse. Then they moved to reconsider, and he was greatly relieved. There was a great deal of fun over the whole proceeding."

"February 24.—It is astonishing the variety of tone that one finds at the meetings of different sets here. One Senator will have a party at which you are thrown in with the most outlandish individuals—men with gaunt faces, stiff beards, and no mustaches, who look as if they would like to take their coats off—side by side with the nicest people. Another collects none but the most interesting, and his party is entirely fine and superior. I can't imagine anything more polished than the atmosphere at Secretary ——'s. It is just like a court. The manners are as clear and quiet as crystal. The diplomatists go there, and I experience at every moment what Emerson calls the romance of meeting the best. There is an indescribable excitement in chatting informally with two or three possible Presidents, who wear dress-coats just like anybody else. One thing is very queer, though; that is, you find men against whom the most dreadful charges are made, associating on the best terms with others who are quite above suspicion; that is, if the accused person is important and 'able.' The powers that be have to show a great deal of tolerance toward 'influence' and wealth."

"March, End of the Season.—Am completely worn out, and haven't an idea left in my head. I shall now begin a course of Shakespeare readings, and have joined the Literary Society. There is still a good deal going on socially, though, and I have an invitation to-morrow for a 'four to seven,' which, in spite of its name, has no connection with politics, but is a delightful afternoon and evening conversazione. The Bachelors' German was given last night, and the Army and Navy assemblies will go on after Lent. These are both conducted by young men, who return in this way the civilities they have received during the season."

AMERICAN PEARLS.

I met Bernhardt on Saturday at Tiffany's choosing some keepsakes for persons who had shown her kindness during her stay here. She was greatly impressed with the size and magnificence of Tiffany's shop. She happened to notice some American pearls from mussels of the Miami river, in Ohio, and her questions led to quite an interesting lecture upon the subject of American pearls by the gentleman detailed to conduct her through the acres of jewels and artistic wares. I never knew before that $50,000 worth of American pearls were bought every year by Tiffany & Co., most of them coming from the California gulf, but others coming from all over the United States. The finest pearl ever seen in this country was found twenty years ago in a New Jersey fresh water mussel, and sold for $15,000, so the story goes, to the then Empress Eugenie by Tiffany & Co. By joining the throng of reporters who accompany Bernhardt with instructions never to let her out of their sight, I learned that even the best experts cannot tell good imitation pearls from real ones. Bernhardt examined the most expensive string of pearls ever brought to this country—60 pearls, not one of which was valued at less than $500—and remarked that she could not tell that string, worth $40,000, from an imitation set that she used on the stage, and which was worth $25. "No more can any one," said the courteous gentleman who led the cortege of reporters and sightseers who followed in the wake of the actress. "The only way in which a real pearl can be told from an imitation one is by weight and by touch. Appearance, color, form and radiance have been perfectly imitated. The best judges in the country cannot tell a pearl worth $500 from one worth $5 at arm's length. All the pearls in a ballroom might be false without the best pearl expert suspecting it." "Why, then, have any real pearls?" said Bernhardt, and the question is a natural one. If the imitation is as good as the real thing, and costs a hundred times less, why not wear imitation pearls? I am afraid that the candid admission of Tiffany's head man was not a good thing for the pearl business.—New York letter.

In Great Britain barristers enjoy the longest lives. Next to them come clergymen of the Church of England, other ministers, grocers, gamekeepers, farmers, civil engineers, booksellers, publishers, wheelwrights, silkmakers, laborers, carpenters, bankers, male domestics, sawyers, braziers, paper-makers, makers of musical instruments, gunsmiths, blacksmiths, shoemakers, tanners and bakers. The greatest mortality prevails among machine makers and wool workers.

The Hartford (Conn.) Post expresses the belief that the New England delegation in the House will be substantially solid in support of Representative Reed of Maine, for the Speakership.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Twelve of the 14 Republican United States Senators just elected were opposed to the nomination of Gen. Grant for a third term.

There are only 720 colored persons in the State of New Hampshire, and this number includes 14 Chinese and 60 Indians and half breeds.

The Cincinnati Commercial thinks the propriety of the removal of the Poncas to Boston Common ought to be investigated by a committee of Congress.

Representative De La Matyr intends to remove to Florida. We would respectfully remark to the people of Indiana that we have enough windbags of our own in the South.—Mobile Register, Dem.

The Mississippi River gets $2,200,000 of the $10,000,000 of the River and Harbor bill, $150,000 of which is for an experiment with reservoirs in Northern Minnesota, which, if successful, will afford a supply of water during the dry season for navigation.

Abraham Lincoln, in a letter written Dec. 11, 1864, said: "You say you are praying for the war to end. So am I, but I want it to end right. God alone knows how anxious I am to see these rivers of blood cease to flow; but they must flow until treason hides its head."

A chart giving the names of the State Government of Nevada for the current year, shows that not one member of the Executive, judicial, or legislative departments is a native of the State. Of the whole number, 23, including both the United States Senators, are foreign born.

A bill to supply maimed ex-Confederate soldiers with artificial limbs has been lost in the Texas Legislature, to the great grief of the Galveston News, which says that "such parsimony, in view of the wealth of Texas and the much vaunted cash balance, not to speak of the 100,000 Democratic majority, is truly wonderful."

Bills Affecting Railroads.

The bill introduced into the House to-day by Mr. Heath of Waterville, relating to the connecting of railroads, provides that any railroad in this State with which other railroads connect, or shall hereafter connect, and over which a connecting traffic in freight and passengers can be done, shall afford like facilities for such connecting business for each of such connecting roads and shall require to be paid no more per mile per ton and per passenger for hauling such passengers and freight coming from or going to one of said connecting roads than to another. And the same privileges in the sale of through tickets and the way billing of connecting freight constituting a joint tariff or tariffs, shall be allowed to one as to another of such connecting roads. And such trunk road shall not injure the business of such connecting roads by any reduction of fare or freights to and from any of the stations on its own road with a view of attracting business to its own line which would otherwise take the connecting road.

Any railroad company in this State which shall refuse to receive, transport or deliver any freight, merchandise or passengers according to the provisions of this act shall for each offence forfeit $100, to be recovered by an action on the case in any county where said company has a place of business.

The bill reported in the Senate requiring railroad corporations to be holden for labor provides that every railroad company in making contracts for the building of its road shall require sufficient security from the contractors for the payment of all labor thereafter performed in constructing the road by persons in their employ; and such company shall be liable to the laborers employed for labor actually performed on the road if they, within twenty days after the completion of such labor shall in writing notify the Treasurer that they have not been paid by the contractors. But such liability shall terminate unless the party claiming to have performed such labor shall commence an action against the company in cases hereafter arising within six months after the giving of such notice, and in cases now existing, within six months after this act shall take effect.

The pumps became choked and the vessel became waterlogged, in which condition he drove four days before a northerly gale. On the evening of the fourth a steamer passed quite close, but paid no attention to her signals.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS—Third Session

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.

The credentials of Thomas C. Pratt and Thomas F. Bayard were presented and filed.

A joint resolution for invitation for foreign nations to be represented and take part in the international exhibition of '83 was passed without debate.

Mr. Morgan, on behalf of the committee to consider the state of the laws in relation to elections of President and Vice President, stated that owing to the late stage of the session the committee would abandon the pending measures before them.

Bill to amend section 988 of the Revised Statutes, so as to extend its provision to all officers of the United States in performance of official acts in which United States is a party or has an interest, passed.

The Postal Appropriation bill was resumed and Hamlin's amendment for a million dollar appropriation in aid of the American ocean mail service was discussed.

Mr. Anthony of Rhode Island addressed the Senate upon the report of the two committees that visited Rhode Island to inquire into alleged violations of the constitution and by-laws of that State. He contrasted the suffrage restrictions imposed by other States with those of his State in the early history of the country, as showing that the Rhode Island Government was as Republican as that of any other State, and that while subsequent changes in her suffrage had been in the direction of liberality, the religious test in New Hampshire, a more rigid landed proprietorship qualification in Massachusetts, the tax qualification in Pennsylvania, requirement of a residence for foreign-born citizens in these and other States, and peculiar discriminations in South Carolina and other Southern States, had been retained without modification.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the Postal Appropriation bill. Mr. Hamlin's substitute for Mr. Pugh's amendment appropriating $1,000,000 for additional foreign postal service, which was ruled out of order on the ground that it would engraft general legislation upon an appropriation bill in violation of the 29th Rule.

Mr. Morgan moved to amend Mr. Pugh's amendment by adding thereto the following: "When vessels built in other countries are so accepted and employed the same shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges secured by law to vessels built in the United States, except the privilege of engaging in the coastwise trade."

At this point a vote demonstrated that a quorum was not present, and after a call of the Senate and several efforts to reach a vote, upon a motion by Mr. Morrill to lay this amendment on the table, Mr. Wallace gave notice that after routine business on Monday he would ask to have the bill taken up and considered until disposed of.

Adjourned.

House.

Mr. Clymer, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back the army appropriation bill with the Senate amendments, recommending concurrence in some and non-concurrence in others. The recommendations were agreed to.

The bill incorporating the Maritime Canal Company of Nicaragua, was referred to the House Calendar. Also to incorporate an Inter-Oceanic Ship Railway Co. The bill gave rise to a noisy and disorderly struggle. Finally, on motion of Mr. Cox the whole subject was laid on the table.

The bill coming over from yesterday, regulating the importation of raw materials used in the construction or repairs of vessels engaged in foreign trade, including trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States, or built on foreign account, was on motion of Mr. Frye amended so as to provide that copper and spelter of foreign growth or productions, which are manufactured in the United States and used in the construction, equipment and repair of vessels to be employed in the foreign trade or foreign account, may be imported in bond under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, and on proof that such materials have been used and manufactured for the purpose aforesaid, no duties shall be paid thereon.

Mr. Bright offered an amendment admitting salt free of duty, but it was ruled out on a point of order. The bill as amended passed.

The bill appropriating money to search for the steamer Jeannette was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the River and Harbor Appropriation bill.

The River and Harbor bill was considered in Committee of the Whole. An amendment was adopted authorizing the Secretary of War to let out all public works provided for in the act by contract to lowest bidder.

At 4:40 P. M., first paragraphs of bill, the appropriating clause, was finally disposed of, and the next paragraph was read and against this Mr. Cox raised a point of order, which was overruled on the ground that the work of the improvement of Richmond Island Harbor Maine, was already in progress. Mr. Murch offered an amendment appropriating $25,000 for improving Rockland Harbor Maine. Rejected.

The committee having concluded consideration of three of the forty pages of the bill rose and the House adjourned.

There is about three feet of water on the ground floor of the Washington Market and around Ford's Opera House. It is reported that the Virginia side of Long Bridge has given away, but the truth cannot be ascertained at present.

At Georgetown the river began to rise rapidly and the ice to move down. Every precaution was at once taken to protect and save the property along the river front. At 2 o'clock this morning the river had risen 2 feet and 6 inches. It continues to rise rapidly and all the wharves and the lower part of the city are now flooded.

LATER—The lower portion of the Census Office, in which the records were stored, commenced flooding this morning, but the fire department kept the water down until documents of the most importance were removed.

A report just from Long Bridge states that the water and ice are rushing over the length of the causeway and that the side railings are being carried away, but that there is no immediate danger to the piers.

MILFORD, Pa., Feb. 12. The flood in the Delaware four miles below here forms a terrible gorge.

A large family named Buckley, living on an island in the middle of the river, are on the island crying for help. They are surrounded by ice and water and no assistance can be given. The rain is pouring and the river is still rising. Awful results below are feared.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 12. The middle ground is inundated. The water is standing at a depth of three feet in the Island House Hotel and Union Depot, cutting off communication with Summit street, except by means of boats, and preventing the entrance of passenger trains. The westerly span of the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge has also been carried away. This bridge was rebuilt last summer, and was a substantial iron structure. Up to 1 o'clock this morning the Lake Shore bridge at the upper end of the city remains intact. A heavy rain with a gale of wind from the northwest is prevailing.

LATER. The excitement consequent upon the flood is intense. In Water street the water is fully five feet deep and rushing fearfully. About three o'clock an ice gorge was formed opposite Bailey's shipyard, which held firmly until six o'clock, when it broke and the ice moved.

The Government botanical gardens are overflowed and great damage done.

All travel over Long bridge was suspended this morning. Ice is pounding heavily against the Aqueduct bridge at Georgetown and the water is almost up to the bridge-way. Three spans of long bridge were carried away this evening.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12. The snow storm is general in the Northwest and has lasted from 24 to 48 hours, according to locality. It has been very heavy, however, in all places heard from and has delayed trains and stopped street cars, clogged telegraph wires and greatly interfered with the general business. The weather is rather mild snow rather heavy and in many points becomes slush when it reaches the ground. The great fall of snow this winter, the heavy rains of the past two weeks and the general break up which has been progressing quietly, has swollen streams and rivers to an extent rarely known before and great damage has already resulted, with a prospect of some larger losses.

ALBANY, Feb. 12. A steady rain all day threatens a freshet on the docks. The water in the river has risen about 12 inches since morning. Merchants have been engaged all day hoisting goods to the upper floor. No trouble on any of the railroads is reported.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. The section of the Long Bridge, about 200 feet in length, which was swept away last night, was carried about 100 yards down river on the flats where it now lies. Telegraphic communication with the South is badly interfered with, as the telegraph cables at Long Bridge have been carried away. Railroad travel to the South on account of the break in Long Bridge, will be seriously impeded. Arrangements have been made to transfer passengers and mails for Richmond and the coast by stages from Washington over the Georgetown bridge to Alexandria, Fredericksburg and Richmond road, at Fort Union on the Virginia side.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. The flood has subsided. An immense ice gorge, extending from above the city to a point several miles below it and reaching nearly over to the Virginia shore, has accumulated and now lies immovable, threatening destruction to the wharves and to a number of steamboats lying at them when it commences to move. The damage already to vessels, wharves and property along the river front is variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000.

ANOTHER STORM IN THE WEST.

Trains Again Blockaded.

Business Generally Suspended in Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 12. The storm continues and all trains are delayed or stopped altogether. The wires are working north and northwest. We have had the heaviest snow all remembered here. No street cars are running and business generally suspended. The propellers Depere and Menominee are in the ice in the bay just visible. The propeller City of Ludington that left yesterday afternoon for Grand Haven, Mich., must have been out in the worst of the gale. Many local accidents of minor importance reported.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 13. The snow blockade proves to be general throughout the Northwest. There are no trains north or west up to midnight. All the roads have large forces of men and plows at work. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul lines, except the northern division, will start trains in the morning. This is considered the most effectual blockade ever known in Wisconsin.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. A private despatch from Quincy, Ill., states that the railroads are completely blockaded to-day. All trains have been abandoned and we have great difficulty in getting provisions to feed the passengers in the snow bound trains. We will not start any more trains until we get the road open. The snow in the cuts west of Brookfield is from 10 to 15 feet deep. It is blowing a gale and the thermometer registered below zero.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 12. The heaviest snow storm of the season prevailed here yesterday. It drifted badly, obstructing all railroads so that no trains have arrived or been sent from here.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 13. It is hoped the worst effects of the late series of great storms are over. Several roads in Southern Minnesota are reported as still choked with immense drifts, and many towns are isolated. There is some fear of the exhaustion of the supplies of food.

PRESS BANQUET AT BALTIMORE.

A Response by President Hayes.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12. The Press banquet was well attended to-night. In response to a toast President Hayes said the press was one of the most patent forces. They heard on all occasions that the success of a Government depended upon the character of the people and the character of the people upon education. There were many sources of education; there were schools, churches, theatres, and many others, yet if asked to select the chief educational source he would name schools, railroads and newspapers. The President spoke at some length upon the beneficial effects of newspapers, and said he would honor the man who gives to his country a good newspaper. Senator Bayard also made a speech.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Affairs in Ireland.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. A London cable says great disquietude exists in the camp of the Land Leaguers, owing to fears of new arrests. These apprehensions are based upon the knowledge of leaders that all important secrets of their organization are now in possession of the Government. The disappearance of Parnell from England at so critical a period is attributed to this fact. It is quite certain that Parnell anticipated arrest, and there seems to be no doubt that evidence has been obtained connecting the member from Cork city with seditious projects.

The Coercion bill will probably become law by the 23d inst., when numerous arrests will undoubtedly be made, but flight from Ireland has already set in.

In several parts of Ireland tenants are now beginning to pay rent again and the Land League, a very active and omnipotent, no longer interferes.

The Doctor will carry with him the best wishes of his many friends to his new home in New York.

NOT AN ORNAMENT TO SOCIETY. Thursday evening a woman reported at the Lewiston police station that a woman from Bangor had stolen a dress from her. An officer arrested the woman on the street during the night, and escorted her to the police station. She had the stolen dress on over her own and took it off in the station. The officer also recovered from her a gold scarf pin which she had stolen from a young man. The female was sent out of town on the first train.

It is expected that the Faculty of the College will be represented.

OUR CUSTOMS DISTRICT. A bill has recently passed both branches of Congress which changes the boundaries of the customs districts in this State. It takes certain towns, plantations and townships lying on the line of the E. & N. A. Railway, from what is called the Eastport and Houlton Districts, and adds them to the Bangor District, thus giving Collector Smith greater jurisdiction. Bangor will be the port of entry and delivery, and Frankfort and Hampden ports of delivery. Last year the duties collected on imported articles at Vanceboro amounted to $30,000, all of which will now be credited to the office in this city.

STEALING BY THE WHOLESALE. Last week Mr. S. D. Maxfield, of this city, made a trip up through Piscataquis County and purchased a large number of sheep pelts which he shipped to this city from the station at Dover. When the pelts were counted out of the cars here it was found that one hundred and thirty-four of the original number were missing, and as he had purchased one hundred and thirty-five in one lot, it was at first supposed that these had been wrongfully kept back, but another examination of the pelts revealed the fact that this particular lot was among the number that had been received. The matter remained a mystery until Friday night when the stolen pelts were found hidden under the station house at Dover, where the thieves had evidently placed them intending to wait for a favorable opportunity to take them away. Mr. Maxfield was notified of the discovery, but as yet there is no clue to the perpetrators of this wholesale theft.

MAINE HISTORICAL SOCIETY. The Library Room of the Maine Historical Society in Portland, is now open to the public every afternoon except Sunday, from two o'clock until six. There are many things pertaining to the history of Maine that ought at once to find their way to this library. Books, pamphlets, portraits and relics belonging to the colonial period, the revolutionary period, the period between the Revolution and the adoption of our State Constitution, and whatever pertains to the political and ecclesiastical history of Maine since that time, are especially desired. But in gathering the materials of his history this Society does not restrict itself to Maine. We have a common interest in the history of sister States, and not infrequently have occasion to investigate their history as well as our own. This should be understood by the friends of the Society, and with a little effort the library can be greatly enriched, and its usefulness in consequence greatly promoted.

ATHLETIC SPORTS. The four class crews and the base ball nine at Bowdoin College will commence work in the gymnasium to-day. All look forward to a successful season in the line of sports. Correspondence has been opened with the Lake George Rowing Association, and should fair terms be obtained and a favorable opportunity present itself, there is no reason why Bowdoin should not be represented in an intercollegiate regatta. The constitution of the base ball association having undergone a thorough revision, this department of sports is now placed on a sound foundation, and it seems as though the work of the coming season can but be profitable and satisfactory.

A SAD AFFLICTION. We are pained to learn of the death of the infant daughter of Mr. F. W. Cram which occurred yesterday. The little one was sick only a short time and the latter part of last week was thought to be improving; but the disease congestion of the lungs—again developed alarming symptoms, and notwithstanding the care that was bestowed by loving hands, the little spirit fled to Him who gave it. Mr. and Mrs. Cram have a very large circle of friends in this city who will extend their heartfelt sympathy in their sad affliction.

SINGING SCHOOL IN WINTERPORT. Our correspondent writes: The singing school taught here this winter by Mr. G. T. Moody, of your city, closed on Thursday evening last with a grand concert in the Congregational church. Owing to the rain and bad weather the audience was not as large as it would otherwise have been, but the large church was pretty well filled. Mr. Moody's popularity as a music teacher made all our people desire to be present. The class that has been under his instruction acquitted themselves in fine style, showing very conclusively that they had been drilled by a master hand. The quartetts, duets and solos were beautifully rendered by members of the class. Where all acquitted themselves so well, I hardly dare call names, though strongly tempted to speak of some who excelled all former efforts. Valuable assistance was rendered by Mr. E. E. Holden, of Bangor; his flute-like notes still linger in our ears. Messrs. Moody and Holden were frequently encored, and favored the audience with some of their choice songs. We think Bangor highly favored by having two such singers.

ONE WAY TO DISPERSE A MOB. When Hunt, the Los Angeles murderer, was caught a short time ago, a mob gathered at the City Prison, and cries of "Lynch the scoundrel" were heard on all sides. Sheriff Rowland hastily called two hundred leading citizens to his aid. Several orators harangued the multitude, but it was implacable. The rioters surged against the prison, and it was understood that the deed would be done at twelve, midnight, sharp. Just before midnight Colonel Frank Godfrey, formerly of this city, climbed to a point from which he could obtain a view of the crowd and made the following speech: "Fellow-citizens—I see before me a large number of men who would like to see the murderer Hunt hanged. Now I propose, as a preliminary to this act of retribution, that we take a collection for the widow and orphans of the murdered Officer Gillis. I will lead off with five dollars, and here is my friend Joe Manning, who will cheerfully go through the crowd and gather up the contributions." The surging mass began to dissolve and scatter, and in a very brief time hardly more than a corporal's guard remained. How much money Joe Manning collected has not been made known.

VALENTINE'S DAY: This is Saint Valentine's day. According to some Ecclesiastical writers Saint Valentine was a bishop, according to others a Presbyter, who was beheaded at Rome in the reign of the Emperor Claudius, and was early canonized. Wheatley says that St. Valentine was a man of most admirable parts, and so famous for his love and charity, that the custom of choosing Valentines upon his festival took its rise from thence. Others derived the custom from birds being supposed to select their mates on this day; others again from a practice prevalent in ancient Rome at the festival of the Lupercalia, held during the month of February, when among other ceremonies, the names of young women were placed in a box, from which they were taken by young men as chance directed. The custom of choosing valentines existed very early, and was much practiced in the houses of the gentry in England. There are frequent references to it in Shakespeare. But that custom has long been obsolete, and to-day, outside of the Catholic church, wherein of course the festival is still observed in its religious aspect, the name of St. Valentine has lost its historic character, and the 14th of February only reminds the majority of our young men and maidens of a pleasant opportunity to send to one another a pretty little token of remembrance called a Valentine.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S FIRE.

The Residence of John N. Farnham Burned.

At about half-past ten o'clock Saturday night fire was discovered at the residence of Mr. John N. Farnham, on Fourteenth street, and as the wind was blowing a gale at the time, the buildings were soon entirely consumed with their contents. An alarm was sounded and the department hurried to the scene of the fire, but were unable to accomplish much. The members of the family were preparing to retire when the fire was discovered, and as the flames had made great headway they had just time to escape with what clothes they had on, leaving everything else to be devoured with the building. It is thought that the fire started around the bottom of the chimney, which rested on heavy timbers and then run along to the barn, as the latter building was burning at the same time with the house. Mr. Farnham estimates his loss at about $2,500, which is partially covered by insurance. He has been keeping house for many years and had accumulated a large amount of goods, all of which were destroyed. Mr. Farnham is the well-known professional nurse here, and his many friends will regret to learn of his loss. Not long since he was presented with an elegant gold watch, and at first he thought he had lost that, but afterwards found it all right. Mrs. J. C. Smith also resided with the family and lost everything she had, including a valuable gold watch. Her household goods were stored in the barn and nothing of any value was saved. Mrs. Smith estimated her loss at $500 and has an insurance of $300. It was a frightful night to be turned out of doors, as the rain was falling in torrents and the wind blowing a perfect gale. The nearest house being that of Mr. Samuel Guess the family went there and were kindly cared for during the night. Yesterday they moved to the residence of Capt. Grant.

SALMON HATCHING.

The New Room on Broad Street.

The fish hatching room on Broad street is now in successful operation, some eighty thousand salmon eggs having already been received here, and by the courtesy of Hon. E. M. Stillwell, a WHIG representative recently examined the works.

This room was established here as the water is the right temperature to hatch the eggs in season to distribute the young salmon as soon as the ice goes out, while at Orrington it brought the eggs forward too early in the season, making it necessary to keep the young salmon until the rivers and lakes were open.

The room is arranged so that about 1,000,000 eggs can be hatched at a time, but if necessary a much larger number can be accommodated. There are several troughs, varying in length from seven feet to fifteen feet, thirteen inches wide and six inches deep. These troughs are arranged in sections, the foot of one coming directly over the head of the other, and as there are spouts in the foot of each, the water is constantly kept in motion. A space is left between each section or tier so that the attendant can pass around among the troughs, and a spout is arranged in the last trough in each section which carries the water into a large tank, from which point it runs off into the stream. Should any accident occur to the water works, however, the holes in the tank can be stopped and the water used over and over again by means of a hand pump. The water is taken into the building through small pipes and is conducted to a tin pipe which runs across the troughs, a faucet being arranged over the first trough in each tier. These faucets require an immense amount of attention as they have to be regulated according to the head of water at the works.

The eggs are placed on trays woven of tin wire of a standard gauge, and as they are hatched the young salmon drop through into the water. About two thousand of these eggs are placed on each tray, which are suspended in the water, where they are carefully watched in order to discover any bad eggs among the number. When an egg is bad it turns white and is immediately removed as it would soon affect the others. Another lot of eggs will be received here in about a week.

Simplicity in Dress.

Our young girls in America do not seem to have the sense of the beauty of simplicity in dress. No young girl looks as young or as lovely in heavy velvets and loaded trimmings as in simple muslins and soft, clinging materials. They detract from their own fresh charms by calling attention to their adornment. I should be inclined to say that no jewels, unless a single row of pearls about the throat, no lace but simple valenciennes, should be worn by any girl younger than twenty-one. A dress perfectly fresh, light in color (where the complexion permits), beautifully cut, and almost entirely untrimmed, cannot be improved upon for a young girl. It is the sweet rounded forms, the dewey bloom of the cheek, the clear young eyes, the soft tender lips, that we want to see. Where silks are worn, they should not be of heavy quality, but soft. Our young girls wear dresses like dowagers. It is a futile waste of money; no beauty is attained.—Maria Oakey, in Harper's Weekly.

DR. J. STEVENS

of Veazie, has opened an office in Bangor, No 4 Main St., Room 1, over Buck & Thurston's store, 2d door to Caldwell Sweet's drug store, for the special treatment of Chronic Diseases.

His thorough knowledge of the human system, both in health and disease, also the action of drugs on the same, has convinced him that all minerals or inorganic matter, (such as are not found in the chemical analysis of the several parts of the human system,) taken in as medicine, must become a foreign substance there, and a great cause of disease. Therefore the Dr has thrown out from his materia medica all such inorganic poisonous matter, as Mercury, Antimony, Lead, Zinc, Copper, &c., and all preparations of same for internal use, and has taken his from the Organic Kingdom, and, in a word, chooses what he considers the best from all the different systems of medicine.

In this reform practice he uses the HEALING BALSAMS, the SOOTHING BALMS, and the NEUTRALIZING MIXTURES taken from God's own Remedies, the Herbal Kingdom, and by science and years of hard toil has so perfected this system of medical practice that many of the old chronic diseases that have been pronounced incurable are now easily cured by this NEW LIFE-GIVING SYSTEM, and when he does cure a disease he leaves no deadly poison nor mineral drug in the human system to create another worse than the first.

The Dr., after due deliberation over his almost unparalleled success in treating Chronic diseases has determined to make a specialty of the following distressing complaints, which are so puzzling to doctors in general, viz: All Nervous Diseases, all diseases of Kidney, Liver and Bladder, all diseases peculiar to Females, also Genital Weakness, Early Decay, diseases arising from Youthful Indiscretion, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Piles, Worms, Billiousness, Scrofula Humors, Mercurial Humors, Cancers. In this he uses the famous Philadelphia antidote. Scores are now rejoicing by his infallible treatment of Fits and Brain diseases and all diseases of the system he handles with skill and delicacy, and will do you no harm in any case whatever.

Lung Complaints, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Spinal Complaints, are treated with great skill, and if he cannot warrant a cure in all cases, he will help, and many cases permanently restored to health. Those who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity of being restored to health and happiness, should not miss this rare chance.
